MEMORIAL EDITION

Foreword

The significance of education for national welfare was strikingly attested by the spirit which inspired our youth to fight for the principles of democracy. Our young men met the final test, to demonstrate again, the dependence of national welfare on education.

It is therefore, fitting and proper, that our yearbook be dedicated to the memory of those who paid the supreme sacrifice. May we ever be grateful for the sacrifice they made, as well as appreciative of the grevious loss suffered by their families and loved ones.

As we that are left grow old;
Age shall not weary them
Nor the world condemn.
At the going down of the sun
And in the morning
We shall remember them"

Board of Education

ELECTED from our city's leading citizens, the Poughkeepsie Board of Education has continued its almost endless task of making our high school a better and more pleasant institution of learning.

Because of the cessation of war, readjustments have had to be made. Some subjects such as radio, Morse code and the more strenuous physical education courses have been abandoned, while refresher courses in mathematics and a number of trade school subjects have been added for the benefit of the veterans, who have returned to us in large numbers. Emphasis on health work has been continued, though, due to lack of space, some regular gymnasium classes have been temporarily discontinued.

The high school building has received some much needed repairs upon its roof, but the chief interest of the board seems to have been consideration of a new high school. After radio and newspaper publicity had been given to the matter, several committees were formed to consider the needs of a new building as well as its cost and most likely site. These committees have been performing their duties with such enthusiasm and definite effort that it seems certain that Poughkeepsie will have a new high school in the not too distant future.

Thus this year's board of education, which is composed of Dr. James E. McCambridge, President; Col. Henry Daniels, Mr. Frank DeGilio, Mrs. E. Sterling Carter, and Mrs. Arthur Handley, has contributed generously to the needs of the students of Poughkeepsie High School.

"Big 3"

THE class of 1946 owes an everlasting debt of gratitude to its three friendly advisers, whose sincere encouragement throughout the year has inspired many to more successful scholastic accomplishments.

Max A. Reutershan, our principal and kindly adviser, will always be remembered for his patience and continuous faith in us. His sincere interest in our many activities has endeared him to all.

Harry R. Myers, our efficient vice-principal, will be remembered for his helpful advice and constant sympathy.

Harold I. Long, our assistant principal, has gained our admiration and respect for the time and energy he has so willingly contributed toward solving our problems.

Editorial

FOR the first time in four years a class is leaving Poughkeepsie High School to enter a world of peace. Staunch members of other classes have fought, and even made the supreme sacrifice, in order to bring this cherished dream to fruit. All over the globe they grappled in a life and death struggle with the forces of tyranny, finally emerging victorious.

Although the Class of 1946 has been spared actual combat on the battlefield, there is an encounter before us, too. It falls to our lot to fight the forces of evil and hate throughout the world. We must contest intolerance, discord and bigotry at every turn. Were we to fail in this task, the seeds of an even more catastrophic war will have been planted. Our high school years have provided the education and associations essential to the success of our task. It rests with each individual alone to utilize this sound foundation to make himself a better citizen of the United States and the world.

The 1946 Phois as its share in this new era has chosen "One World" as its theme. This is proper, for a golden epoch of peace depends on the universal brotherhood, justice and cooperation of all the peoples of the earth. Turning to the words of Tennyson we find expression for these aspirations.

"Till the war drum throbb'd no longer, and the battle flags were furl'd,
In the Parliament of man, the Federation of the World.
There the common sense of most shall hold a fretful realm in awe,
And the kindly earth shall slumber, lapt in universal law."

HOWARD EFFRON,
Editor-in-Chief.

SENIORS

First Row: Walter Gloede, Vice-President; Kay Donahue, Secretary.
Second Row: William Paroli, Treasurer; John Ganoung, President.

Senior History

LET the trumpets sing out their glorious notes! We, the class of 1946, are about to pass into the pages of the history of P. H. S., leaving behind us a blazing path of glory and triumphs.

As Freshmen we were at first bewildered, but soon found our place and began immediately to make the upperclassmen sit up and take notice. We participated wholeheartedly in the debates, declamations, school athletics and Victory Corps. Already the shining lights of our class were burning brightly.

Encouraged by early success, we sped swiftly along and passed through our Sophomore year. Our trumpets were singing out stronger.

In our Junior year we broke all precedents and produced the most unusual and most successful Junior Prom ever witnessed. Our class practically produced and furnished the cast for the annual play which, of course, was a huge success. Our class was rapidly taking the lead in all fields of activities. The trumpets were blowing ever louder.

Finally we arrived on D floor—Seniors at last! In this, our last and most successful year, we lived up to all expectations and came through with a spectacular Senior Prom, produced leaders in Science, Mathematics, Dramatics, Music and Athletics. Our star was shining brightly, and the trumpets played their loudest for our final and greatest achievement—the Phois of 1946.

Now, as the trumpets play the recessional, we pause with diplomas in our hands and remember. We remember those of our class who are not with us but in the armed forces, we remember little things such as dates, dances and football games just like a history book, which is what this Phois is! Now the trumpets die away.

Senior Day

ALAS, came June after the Class of '46 had mopped their brows and struggled on through a year of hard work to the finishing line in order to graduate from dear old P. H. S. With June came all the honors and glory of being graduating Seniors. To celebrate this notable event, the Senior class planned and carried out one whole day especially dedicated to them.

On June 24th, Senior Day began with a luncheon. The committee for the luncheon included Selma Schecter, chairman, Joseph Tofel, Martha Graham, Annette Yerrick and Dan Meyerson. Besides enjoying a delicious meal, the class was entertained by "A Dip Into The Future," the theme of the luncheon, which portrayed what various members of the class would be doing several years hence. Although slightly contrary to reality, the entertainment was a wonderful success. Those responsible for the skit were John Payne, Chairman, Harriet Goldstein, Florence Vantella, Margaret Walsh and Richard Terry.

Other highlights of the luncheon, which was held at the Nelson House, were the Senior spade oration by John Payne, and the Junior spade oration by Sheila Walsh.

The day was successfully ended by the Senior Dance which was held in the Y. M. C. A. gym. The theme of the dance, "The Big Dipper" was beautifully portrayed with Jean Cashin and Bob Becker acting as chairmen of the affair. The rest of the committee included—Mary Weglinski, Frank Aiena, Ed Dow, Dick King and Jean Cashin.

Class Will

WE, THE class of 1946, leave to these, our contemporaries, the following:

To Charlie Kirchner—a record album of "jazz" records.

To Howie Effron—a one-seated car—guess why?

To Al Meier—a recording of "Personality."

To Joe Darrow—a sign saying "I belong to Jean."

To Aetius Lawrence—a science problem he can't solve.

To Seymour Sack—a scientific laboratory, so that he can work in peace.

To Bob Becker—a platinum cornet.

To Jack Ganoung—a seat in the Hall of Fame at P. H. S.

To Bill Winkler—Betty's devotion.

To Bob Robertson—all the available pictures of Ingrid.

To Marty Heller—a little black book so he won't get "them" mixed up.

To Richard King—a tube of toothpaste to keep his smile as dazzling as ever.

To Jack Thornton—a set of paints in order to paint more pictures.

To John Payne—something to disturb his amiable disposition.

To Walt Gloede & Bill Paroli, Inc.—A tape measure to measure their head sizes from time to time.

To Don Lindsley—a whip to crack his jokes more successfully.

To Art Hendrickson—a can of corn to fit his jokes.

To Larry Wolf—an autogyro to enable him to make quick trips to Roosevelt.

To Kay Donahue—that golden weddin' band.

To Jean Cashin—the statement—"My problem is . . ."

To Shirley Owens—a super vitamin pill to add a few inches.

To Doris Parkton—more trips to Annapolis.

To Marilyn Santos—"Frankie"—bones and all!

To Carol Lindholm—a "model" job.

To Marianna Burnett—a piece of sandpaper to keep her "smooth."

To Jane Anne Stone—a record of Russ singing "Star Eyes."

To Jean MacKennan—a little ray of sunshine to match her disposition.

To the inseparables—Mary Hadigan & Eleanor Opitz—the formula for laughing gas.

To Anne Darrow—a future as happy as her disposition.

To Joyce Craig—a jar of silver polish to shine those silver wings.

To Selma Schecter—the "stage" of life.

To Agnes Riley—A lime "Ricky."

To Lillian Parker—a jar of honey to add to her sweetness.

To Mary Titus—an infallible excuse for skipping.

Phois Staff

HAIL the class of 1946. The Seniors have again reached the high goal set by their predecessors. The 1946 Phois is worthy of its place of honor among the outstanding yearbooks of Poughkeepsie High School's past. Only through the untiring efforts of our editors and with the aid of worthy advisers have we succeeded in turning out a yearbook which meets the high standard set for us by the staffs of former years.

Our Phois means a great deal to us as did each preceding book to its respective class. We leave behind our yearbook not only as a lasting review of the class of '46, but also as a fond memorial to the sons of Poughkeepsie High School who gave their lives in the war.

Phois Staff—Don't let it get you down!

We remember our able editor and assistant editor, Howard Effron and Paul Williams; Betty Scofield and her excellent work as literary editor; Stanley Hamilton and camera, Incorporated; Marty Heller and Grace Taylor for their success in Advertising and Circulation; Emanuela Farruggella, our typist; and the Art Honorary Society.

Our special thanks and appreciation to our advisers—Miss Haight, Miss Pattrell, Miss Torgesen, Mr. Bartlett, Mr. Heineman and Mr. Seeber for their aid and encouragement. A word of thanks goes also to the Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen for their respective pages.

We hope that you who read the '46 Phois will gain as much enjoyment as we have producing it.

Senior Prom

CUTE little cupids perched all around
Bows and arrows their marks have found,
Reddest hearts and streamers, too;
All this means our Senior Prom come true.

As Co-chairmen, Lillian Parker and Don Lindsley, piloted us over a none too smooth course and did a bang-up job of it. Bob Robertson designed the novel bids, and Barbara Scott headed the very capable decoration committee, consisting of Joanna Antonakos, Fannie White, Carol Lindholm, Doris Parkton, Shirley Owens and Jane Anne Stone. Of course we can't slight the male assistants, Don Carhart, Al Meier and Andy Ceroni, who had the tedious job of sitting atop high ladders putting up the curtains. We received our invitations through the work of Jean MacKennan, chairman, and her assistants, Faye Wolpe, Nancy McDivitt and Bill Winkler. We danced to the strains of Dominic Cavalieri's orchestra, thanks to Aetius Lawrence and Fred Anderson. However, we couldn't have danced without bids, which Mary Hadigan, Eleanor Opitz and Nancy Feldsine procured. Naturally we had to eat, so Anne Darrow, Florence Vantella and Marianna Burnett put their heads together to produce some delectable refreshments. Kay Doyle, Phyllis Fein and Edward Plog rounded up the chaperons, and the inevitable job of cleaning up was left to Sherwood Thompson, chairman, and his helpers, Don Davis, Larry Wolf, Richard Togna, and Charlie Gallucci. Our guiding light—and believe us we needed one—was Miss Haight. A big red heart to her for her untiring aid in making the Heart's Delight Senior Prom of 1946 successful.

Junior History

"JUNIORITY," says Mr. Webster, "is the third year of high school," and what a great year it is. Two years ago, however, the class of '47 was just another group of eager freshmen. They distinguished themselves by plunging whole-heartedly into the school life and joining every organization and club in P. H. S. National honors went to N. F. L. that year because of talented freshmen. Locutores, Deliso, and the Dramatic Club became suddenly more important and meaningful because our pep made them so.

In our sophomore year, realizing we couldn't do everything, we concentrated our energies. Each one of us strengthened noticeably the group into which his interests led him. As a result we now have a streamlined cheering squad, expert and enthusiastic. Alice Oepen, Jean Bauer, Mary Taylor, Helen Sotanski, and Shirley Dickerson, girls with plenty of pep, have worked this metamorphosis. The Technical Club is almost entirely a junior group; without Charlie Hoffman, Edward Wallin, and Bob Tiel we could never produce plays and assemblies. Miriam McGrath's golden voice has filled our auditorium many times and Gus Poulimas' violin has thrilled us all. The Glee Club has many junior voices, Margaret Maroney, Alice Colligan, Helen Travis, Muriel Kahn, Bettijean Erts, Helene Brewer, Nancy Quinterro, and Charlanne James. As for class officers how could we have better shown our wisdom? They are Robert Hadden, Margaret Purcell, John Feldsine, and Barbara Randall.

The reader must admit that we are a powerful force, a big and important cog in the wheel of P. H. S. Modesty prevents our saying more than that we are proud indeed of the class of '47.

James Porter

Jim is really getting up in the world, the way he pushes Kings and Queens around.

Ernest Parisella

"The Magic Fingers" of P. H. S.

Dot Couse

If Dot is going to be a nurse, I'll be sick once a week.

Kay Mowell

Kay is almost 5 feet now; oh well, you know the old saying, "Good things come in small packages."

Bob Hempe

How the girls do love that wave, Bob; is it natural or does your mother have a curling iron?

Shirley Dickerson

Tall, sweet, and very "Slim."

Thomas Mackey

Tom is taking American History but it's all "Greek" to him.

Margaret Purcell

When Peggy was born the Almighty said, "Let's make her short and sweet."

Barbara Pitcher

Fun and good humor describe Barbara to a "T".

Vincent Kilmer

Vinnie's dancing feet make him a favorite among all of us.

Gus Poulimas

A young man with promise — Gus and his Stradivarius.

Ann Van Wagner

"Van" is out for a "Whalen" good time.

John Feldsine

John isn't conceited; ask him and he'll say, "I don't think I'm half so good as I really am."

Effie Verven

Come on out, Effie! We see you, even though you are wearing your "camouflage" coat.

Irene Bush

Irene with her quick wit and friendly way enlivens many, otherwise dull classes.

Sigmund Israel

Our mathematical genius looks carefully at all "figures."

Charlanne James

Her "come-on" smile and twinkling eyes make "Chy" hard to resist.

Barbara Plumb

If "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach," Barbara will certainly get her man.

Edward Wallin

We all know that Ed didn't put those dents in his father's Nash, don't we?

Robert Bub

His love for music and Joan bring Bob to band rehearsals every morning.

Ruth Tiger

Wonder if this Tiger had anything to do with the devouring of McCoy?

Catherine Oepen

Did you ever hear her laugh? Don't! It's dangerous.

Alan Lorber

Quote, "Why was I born handsome and smart instead of conceited?" Unquote.

Donald Whitmore

Hollywood advice: Don't waste your time with physics, Don, when you can have things like Anne Roberts in Act 2.

Richard McNair

A quiet lad, who knows how to win friends as well as catch a football.

Jean Bauer

Jean, with that bright red hair and that gay laugh, can be spotted anywhere.

Junior Prom

THE Juniors have done it again! This year's Junior Promenade turned out to be a royal affair, just as everyone knew it would. How could they miss with such capable, enthusiastic chairmen as Peggy Purcell and Bobby Doyle? The prom was held on May 25 with Dominic Cavalieri's solid music putting all the dancers in the mood. "Rhapsody in Blue" was the satisfying theme that the decorations and bids were built around. The walls of the gym were covered with pictures of all the "blues" songs. Many long hours were spent by the committee in planning and carrying out the plans, but all the students were so pleased with the result that they forgot about the labor!

Many thanks to our faculty advisers, Mrs. Kirby and Mr. Seeber, for helping us to achieve our success. Other members of the committees are Decorations—Mary Taylor, Jane Keenen, Bob Meglaughlin, John Feldsine, Nancy Quinterro, Edward Donahue, Jack Meade, Joe O'Hehir; Chaperones—Jay Terwilliger, Robert Bub, Caroline Pratten; Bids—Bob Buchanan, Edgar Raymond, Muriel Kahn; Refreshments—Charlanne James, Beverly Miller, Alice Oepen, Jean Van Wagenen, Denton Anderson; Orchestra—Charles Hoffman, Shirley Dickerson, Robert Tiel; Clean-up—Walter Kiley, Carl Lindholm, Glenn MacClelland, Erwin Dudek and Tom Mackey.

Sophomore History

SEPTEMBER first, 1944—a most memorable day for Poughkeepsie High School, because on that day the class of 1948 was enrolled. Although confused at first at the strange surroundings, we soon became accustomed to the daily routine of suffocating in the annex, freezing in the tunnel on our way to the main building, and there getting shoved and pushed around 'till we were black and blue all over. But then, we soon grew to love it. (!?) Eager to participate in the many activities we had heard about, we increased the membership of almost every organization in the high school.

Result — not only memberships in various organizations, but also officerships in Locutores, Dramatic Club, Choir, Glee Club, and N. F. L. Also in Freshman year, we won recognition when one of our classmates placed first in Humorous Declamation. Some of our more musical students received "1" ratings at the competition held at Pleasantville. The Freshmen inexperienced debate teams tied for first place in the Eastern New York State tournament in December. The Freshmen class was also represented at the New York State N. F. L. Preliminaries. The annual play, "What a Life," was composed of many members of our class.

Not satisfied with our accomplishments in our first year, we proceeded further in our second year and commenced by electing our very capable class officers: President, Bob Stoutenberg; Vice-President, Ruth Schaefer; Treasurer, Joe Bailey; and Secretary, Joyce Dattoli. Many star players on the football, basketball, baseball, and track teams were our own classmates. Freshman debaters of the last year advanced to Varsity teams. Later in the year we won the coveted Sophomore-Junior cup. Again Class of '48'ers gained important parts in the annual play, this year "Our Town."

As we look back at our past successes in our Freshman and Sophomore years, with great anticipation we await the completion of our High School career, interpolated with even more outstanding accomplishments.

Freshman Class History

LISTEN all people, and you will hear
The breath-taking hist'ry of our first year,
From Clinton to Hamilton stands the school
Where we are taught ev'ry manner and rule.

In September 1945, P. H. S. opened wide its arms of hospitality and fondly greeted a crowd of bewildered freshmen. In the auditorium, all of us, coached by Mr. Myers, received our first lesson in High School manners and conduct. Our first day was confused because we were taunted by the "upper-classmen"; we climbed the wrong stairs; and we found ourselves in the science room for social studies. Gradually, we became accustomed to the strange antics of our upper classmen, as well as the surroundings and procedure.

During the course of the year, we elected capable representatives of the freshmen group to act as our governing body. Our president is Jane Ann Mulvey, while Bill Hoover, Marenes Tripp, and Lois Garrison constitute her competent staff.

Many got right in the swing of things by joining the extracurricular activities in the school. Band, Camera Club, Chorus, Debating, Dramatics, and Girls' Freshmen Athletic Association are only a few of the many enjoyments in which the freshmen are duly represented.

We showed our ability by raising the most money in the Bond Drive, by selling the most tickets to the humorous debate, and by participating in the drama, "Our Town."

Yes, freshmen may come and freshmen may go, but the class of '49 will try its best to hold in high esteem the good name and traits of P. H. S.

Trade School

NOW that our country is at peace, Trade School is training its students to take their place in industry as they did during the war. The skilled machinists and toolmakers of tomorrow are receiving their training now in our Trade School and thousands like it. Trade School is an important part of the school system at present because it fits many for skilled trades. Through the Trade School many of those students with mechanical minds are given the opportunity to develop their talents.

Trade School is more or less of a proving ground for students. The courses offered give students the opportunity to prove to themselves and their associates whether or not they have the necessary essentials for becoming machinists or toolmakers. If they lack some of the vital qualities, they discover it in time to receive an education in another field. Those possessing the necessary qualifications are able to develop their talents and skills and receive expert advice or assistance.

Actually a student must be a sophomore before he enters Trade School. During his first year of high school the student receives instruction in English, Social Studies, General Science and Introduction to Machine Shop Practice. His sophomore year is devoted to English 2, Trade Mathematics, Shop Theory, Trade Science and Mechanical Drawing. In his third year the student studies English 3, Physics, Shop Mathematics, and Engineering Drafting 2. Seniors are required to take Fourth Year English, Trade Mathematics, Engineering Drafting 3, and American History. For the entire three year period the students receive three hours a week shop work under the direction of Mr. Carter at the Trade School. Mr. Durfey gives the instruction in related subjects in the High School.

Doubtless many students will elect to take the Trade School course in the future because of the stress being laid on skilled labor. Our trade school has the equipment necessary to train thoroughly these students. The school has a wide assortment of precision instruments and machinery. Such machines as the turret lathe, milling machine, grinder and gear hobbler are at the disposal of the trainees.

We are more than confident that many of the students from our Trade School will become leaders in the field of industry.

General Organization

THE members of the G. O. accomplished a great deal of work during the year. Many problems were brought up at the meetings, with a large percentage of these problems being solved.

Our first undertaking was the revision of the G. O. constitution. Under the new provision, members of the Sophomore class are allowed to serve as officers of the G. O. Formerly only Juniors and Seniors were allowed to hold office. The reason for this change is to give the lower classes a chance to receive training in the governing of the G. O., which they will be able to use later on if they are elected to the G. O. Another change is the extension of the term of office of G. O. officers from one-half year to a full year. Previous to this the term was so short that a person just became accustomed to his office when it expired. This measure will undoubtedly remedy the situation and bring better efficiency to the administration of the G. O.

During the year our G. O. became a member of The Dutchess County Interschool Student Association which had been formed to promote good interschool relationships.

The members of the G. O. wish to express their appreciation to Mr. Longley for his untiring help, since our success was only possible because of his help. The officers for 1945-1946 were Robert Becker, President; Joseph Havens, Vice-President; Grace Taylor, Secretary; Kathryn Donahue, Treasurer.

The Monitor Force

TO John Payne, our ever present Captain, goes the credit of a prompter and more dutiful monitor force. Each morning at eight-thirty and each noon at one-five these sentinels of the law and order of Poughkeepsie High are seen heroically withstanding the wave of traffic surging around them.

On D floor, John's able assistant was Aetius Lawrence, who, it might be noted, succeeded in getting to their posts on time, some of the members of the gentler sex(?) by turning a deaf ear on their complaints of needing their beauty rest. Well, Flo, Janet and Shirley, it was fun though, wasn't it? How did you always get there so early, Mildred Postoff.

Monitors—Beware!

Though a severe task master at times, Fred Anderson, captain of C floor, performed his duty nobly, greatly aided by the promptness of Muriel Kahn, Barbara Pitcher, Peggy Maroney and Don Whitmore.

The shining countenances of Jack Sacher and Gloria Betros were always an encouraging sight as we trudged up to B floor. Captain McCoy Kichar and later Captain Bill Davis of B floor, must have had something to do with their promptness. Red-headed, giggling Romola Rosen added spice to B floor. We should give a hand to those faithful A floor monitors, the first to arrive and the last to leave their posts. Nice going!

Of course, we cant forget that poor orphan, the annex. For the first semester each monitor had a chance to be captain for a week, but in the middle of the year Harry Bieber was elected permanent captain.

Viewing Poughkeepsie High's crowded halls at the change of classes, we have to give a hand to the efficient management of this year's monitor force.

Bond Drive

IN THE final bond drive of the war, the goal of Poughkeepsie High School was $3,000 for a hospital unit. Our quota was doubled after the $3,000 had been raised in a short time, and at the conclusion of the drive, we were able to report the purchase of bonds and stamps to the total of $5,800.

Sales were greatly stimulated by the presentation of a melodrama, "The Fright of the Bumblebees," written and produced by a group of enthusiastic bond salesmen. The originators were Dorothy Couse, Mario Biscardi, Louis Schwartz and Natalie Fleck. Breathless Bumblebee, portrayed by Selma Schecter, was about to be evicted with her family by the ruthless landlord, a villain called Itchy Blackheart, played by John Feldsine. Ma and Pa Bumblebee, in normal life Natalie Fleck and Richard Capano, proved no help at all, even with a shotgun, in keeping a roof over their heads. Breathless was about to be forced to carry Itchy, when out from the west came our hero, Habeus Corpus, enacted by Larry Wolf. With the aid of the O. P. A. and the Rent Control, Habeus won not only the house but Breathless, the sweet heroine.

The play was a wonderful climax to a successful bond drive.

Orchestra

DESPITE the early morning dew, the heavy eyelids and the repetitious yawns of some thirty girls and boys, the Poughkeepsie High School Orchestra members manage to make rehearsals Tuesdays, Thursdays and some Fridays, promptly at eight o'clock. However, the weariness and dreamy thoughts of lying in bed soon vanish as the orchestra tunes up and begins a work-out on Johann Strauss' "Artist Life" or "The Optimist" by A. J. Weidt. This year the organization has been noticeably increased by the addition of several Freshmen and Sophomores who have excellent ability.

On several occasions, assembly programs have included the orchestra's beautiful arrangements. Some other appearances were at January Graduation exercises, the Memorial Service for P. H. S. boys in service, the annual play, "Our Town," and the June Graduation exercises.

This year's activities and rehearsals have been enjoyed by all the members because of the expert directing of our new conductor, Mr. Luther Hawkins, and the efficiency of the officers, which included Robert Becker, President; Gus Poulimas, Vice-President; Jane Kamen, Secretary; Delores Naylor, Treasurer. As the season closes, the orchestra can look back upon a long-to-be-remembered year and feel that the early morning rehearsals were not in vain.

Poughkeepsie High School Band

ON THE first day of school in September, the P. H. S. Band started another season by electing the officers who were to lead it through an eventful and a successful year. The officers elected were Paul Williams, President; Bob Hadden, Vice-President; Art Whitney, Treasurer; and Joan Becker, Secretary. McCoy Kichar and Robert Fitzpatrick were appointed as librarians. Under the leadership of Mr. Hawkins, the Band got off to a flying start.

At the football games the Band worked closely with the cheerleaders to build up a lusty and effective support for the team. Two new pieces, "The Locomotive" and "We Want a Touchdown," in which the Band acted as a separate cheering section, soon became well known by the Blue and White rooters and were sung loudly by all. For the first time since the beginning of the war, the Band was able to travel with the team to the out-of-town games. On October 6, the Band went to Port Jervis with the team and, though there was a steady drizzle of rain, staunchly supported the team with snappy renditions of "On Poughkeepsie!" and "Go, Poughkeepsie, Go!" On October 27, a longer trip to Schenectady was made, and although the game was lost, the playing of the Band kept up the fighting spirit of the team and rooters until the final gun was fired. All members of the Band are deeply grateful for the efforts of the group of students who organized the two "Tag Day" assemblies to raise money for the out-of-town trips.

After the football season the Band settled down to learn classical pieces for the annual concert and the Music Festival and competition held in Hudson, and made a fine showing at both.

Girls Glee Club

THIS year, as always, the Poughkeepsie High School Girls' Glee Club is one of the most outstanding organizations in the school. Under the direction of Miss Marguerite Waters, it has participated in numerous events, making this year one of the most successful. Besides singing at the traditional Memorial Services, the Glee Club has sung for the January Graduation Exercises, P. T. A. Meetings, and various lectures at the High School. During the Christmas Season, the Club appeared with the A Capella Choir rendering a group of Christmas carols at the Yuletide Assembly Program.

This group of about fifty girls meets every Thursday afternoon to sing such favorites as "The Pilgrim Song," "The Snow," and "The Bells of Aberdovy."

While accomplishing their musical goals, the girls enjoy companionship, conviviality and mutual understanding.

Glee Club—Who cares about the songs?

Among the competent young musicians who entered the State Music Finals last spring were Lena Scheib, Natalie Fleck, Melanie Zimmer, Miriam McGrath, Florence Vantella, Lillian Parker, and a special group of eight girls forming an octette. For the first time in many years, the whole Glee Club sang in the Spring Finals and received commendable praise.

Officers of the Glee Club are President, Gloria Betros; Secretary, Janet Cutler; Treasurer, Betty Scofeild; and Reporter, Lillian Parker. Much credit for the success of the Glee Club goes to its competent and genial director, Miss Waters, and to its able pianist, Gloria Betros.

A Capella Choir

THE A Capella Choir has attained great musical success under the direction of Miss Waters. Natalie Fleck made a very capable president. Mary Lou Taylor, as vice-president, helped keep the laws and the music in order, while secretary Jean Becker kept a stern eye on the attendance book.

The choir has enjoyed the rehearsals twice a week, because of the unusual repertoire they have collected. Among this collection you will find "Sweet and Low" and "Calm be Thy Sleep" by the great composer and arranger Noble Cain, "Psalm 150" composed by Franck. A modern air has also been added with Duke Ellington's composition "Mood Indigo," and the spiritual "Sit Down, Servant" arranged by Fred Warring. The best loved of all their songs was "Send Out Thy Light," a beautiful song written by Fr. Jos. Schuetky.

The choir this year contained forty-seven mixed voices. Our football team was well represented in the bass and tenor sections.

When an assembly program was presented by the choir, Gus Poulimas, Poughkeepsie High School's violinist, and Gladys Stein, our most talented pianist, were the guest artists. The music of choir and artists was greatly enjoyed by the High School audience. Another program was presented at Christmas time in conjunction with the Girls' Glee Club, during which the Yuletide spirit was extolled to the P. H. S. students.

Technical Club

DIM out Stage Loft . . . slow!" "Bring up North Spot to eight!" Few of us realize what this peculiar slang, that the members of the "Tech Club" use, means, but on it rests the coordination in lighting that we see at our assembly programs. These boys are rendering a great service to our school. Besides operating the public address system and the complex switchboard, there are numerous other jobs which they are called upon to do, such as operating the motion picture projectors, both at the assemblies and in various classrooms; lighting for concerts; and having charge of lighting effects for the annual school play. They have three degrees of achievement. Apprentice is first, for the aspiring young Freshmen who have been accepted into the club. After the apprentice has realized the fundamentals of operating various pieces of equipment, he becomes a technician. Finally, when he has become accomplished and learned with all intricacies of this equipment, he is made a master technician on completing his minimum length of service, a year. The club's assignments are received from both Mr. Reutershan and Mr. Myers. The club is grateful for the guidance that it receives from Mr. Heinemann, their faculty adviser.

Richard Hartung was President of the club during the Fall semester, but with his graduation in January, Robert Tiel was elevated to the Presidency, with Jack Meade, Vice-President; Charles Hoffman, Secretary; and Edward Wallin, Treasurer. Other members are George Coons, Kermit Boeckel, and Nelson Dewey.

Dramatic Club

1945-46 was a banner year for the Dramatic Club, with John Payne as expert director. With the fine group of beginning freshmen in our club, impersonations, impromptu plays and declamations showed great promise. In addition, the veterans Anne Roberts, Selma Schecter, Florence Vantella and Harriet Goldstein gave a professional air to any clubs and school activities in which they participated.

Although the dramatic climax of the school year was the double performance of "Our Town" on February 28th and March 1st, the high spot of the club activity was the gay Christmas party around the Dramatic Club tree in the main hall. Games, refreshments and presents helped to make this a festive occasion.

The officers were John Payne, President; Gus Poulimas, Vice-President; Gloria Betros, Secretary; Donald Whitmore, Treasurer.

Dramatic Club—One In a Million!

Our Town

A PRODUCTION equal if not superior to that of a Broadway company in Europe this winter," was the comment of a veteran who saw the first night presentation of "Our Town" on February 28, 1946.

"A cast better than any other previous matinee group," was the statement of many people who have been following high school plays for some years.

Indeed, the subtle characterization of seasoned actors—Anne Roberts, Florence Vantella, Edith Simon, Fannydean Simon, Miriam McGrath, Fred Anderson, William Pappas, John Payne, Donald Whitmore, Mario Biscardi and Constantine Poulimas—justified the selection of this Pulitzer Prize play as the school's annual production. In addition, the assistance of the newcomers to our stage—Edward Romano, Milton Drury, Marvin Rosenthal, Melvin Weiss, Richard Laramee, Jack Sacher, and many others—made possible two remarkable performances of "Our Town." Such actors in colorful costume under skillful lighting made this tragedy an unforgettable memory equal to "Elizabeth the Queen," "Mary of Scotland," "Beau Brummell," "Berkeley Square," and "Watch on the Rhine," former triumphs of P. H. S.

The Committees included: Business, Margaret M. Walsh, Evelyn Belknap, Howard Effron, James Effron, Natalie Fleck, Charlotte Kaplan, McCoy Kichar, Patricia Noll, Jean Van Wagener, Sheila Walsh, Annette Yerrick; Costumes, Joanna Antonakos, Janet Cutler, Beverly Harris, Jane Anne Stone; Lighting, Charles Hoffman, Robert Tiel, Edward Wallin; Make-up, Marianna Burnett, Jean Cashin, Shirley Owens, Ann Van Wagner, Patricia Nelson, Peggy Purcell; Properties, Irwin Kalisher; Publicity, Electra Verven, Sheldon Snyder.

The Students Theatrical Club

THE Students' Theatrical Club (S. T. C.) had a dramatic and sudden beginning back in October when, in order to raise funds to send the High School Band to Port Jervis for the football game, a group of students joined forces and in three days produced the successful assembly entitled "Storkacapana." The group was headed by Florence Vantella, with John Payne, Janet Cutler, Jack Sacher, Natalie Fleck, Shirley Schilling and many others. Since then a great number of enthusiastic students have joined the ranks of the club and have greatly enjoyed participation in such an active group.

In "Storkacapana" the school's most outstanding talent was collected, including the Simon twins, Constantine Poulimas, Harriet Goldstein, Lillian Parker, Jane Kamen and Johnny Spadaro, to mention just a few. Charging fifteen cents, the club collected the amount needed, with a sufficient surplus to aid them in their next endeavor, sending the band to Schenectady. Again, the group tried their hand at producing, with the result that the "Nonsense and Consequence" assembly was a laugh hit.

S. T. C—Cute Tricks

However, the biggest triumph of the years was the "Arabian Dreams" assembly which was a lavish production complete with costumes and scenery. The diligence and hard work of nearly forty participants and committee members was rewarded by the enthusiastic applause and praise of the capacity audience. Donald Wood, "Buck-Wheat," was hilarious as the comedian, while Irwin Kalisher as the Arabian Princess created much laughter. Again we find outstanding talent in the cast: the Starettes, Ernest Parisella, Lillian Parker, Rudolph Feola, The Simon Twins, and the simply marvelous "Rhythm Band," plus dancing girls, hand maidens, prop men and attendants.

"Arabian Dreams" was rightfully pronounced an excellent assembly, for an excellent cause.

Chess Club

TAKING its place among the prominent organizations of P. H. S., the Chess Club enjoyed a highly successful season in its second year of existence. Included in the Club's expanded program were such activities as intramural tournaments, inter-scholastic matches, rapid transit chess contests, "ladder" ratings, a new form of chess called kriegspiel, visits to convalescent centers to teach chess to wounded veterans as part of their rehabilitation program and exhibitions by champions.

The season opened with a preliminary tournament of twenty-four entrants to determine the varsity and junior varsity teams. Later the Club held a final tourney to decide the place of each member on the team. "Ladder" ratings were introduced, which award points for winning games and indicate the relative strength of each player.

In clinching the unofficial Hudson Valley High School Chess Championship, Poughkeepsie High School's varsity chess team overran eight area opponents without a defeat. With Poughkeepsie's "Big Three," Captain Dan Meyerson, James Porter, and Fred Anderson showing the way, decisive victories were scored over Kingston, Liberty, Saugerties and Anderson School of Staatsburg. Joe Tofel, "Ace" Lawrence and Harold Sutton rounded out the squad with John Treyz, Charles Hoag, Seymour Sack and Jonah Sherman filling in as reserves. Non-area team matches were held with West Point, Vassar, Forest Hills, and Jacob Joseph and Samuel Tilden High Schools of New York City.

Besides enjoying its undefeated season, the club also feels proud in introducing many persons to the intrigue of chess as well as hastening the hours for the wounded veterans at Castle Point.

Much credit is especially due to the club's faculty advisers, Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Chisholm, whose devoted guidance insured the season's success. Officers of the club included Dan Meyerson, President; Fred Anderson, Vice-President; James Porter, Treasurer; and Aetius Lawrence, Secretary.

Camera Clique

ONCE again the ardent members of P. H. S.'s unique Camera Clique have succeeded in developing their club into one of our most outstanding organizations. Meeting every other Wednesday afternoon in Room 3, the members, under the expert and sincere guidance of Mr. Heinemann, have greatly expanded their knowledge of photography through informal discussions and demonstrations.

Helen Hendricks and Louise Tufenkjian presented vivid demonstrations on oil coloring of photographs. At one meeting, the students' knowledge of the use of flashbulbs was greatly increased by a sound motion picture. Members of the Camera Clique aided the "Phois" staff in contributing pictures and also took special photographs for Mr. Reutershan. Several members submitted prints to the national contest at Rochester, New York.

Louise Tufenkjian, President; Raymond Lindholm, Treasurer; and Bill Davies, Secretary; this year's able officers, deserve much praise for their efficiency and constant effort to make the Clique a success.

Art Honor Society

A. E. A.
Ability, Scholarship, Achievement

THE Art Honor Society was organized in September, 1945, for the purpose of encouraging both the general and the individual advancement in art. The society has accepted the responsibility for the art work of the "Phois," such school art projects as time permits, and any public art competitions selected.

The activities to date have been the Harry Doehla Art Competition, art work for the "Phois," "Our Town" posters, Memorial Bookplates, many school advertising projects and the National Scholastic Awards.

The group chairmen include: Joanna Antonakos—"Phois"; Barbara Scott—General Organization; Doris Rogers—Correspondence; Arne Lindmark—Memorial Bookplates.

The charter members are Joanna Antonakos, Robert Robertson, Arne Lindmark, Barbara Scott, Jack Thornton, Fannie White and Doris Parkton.

New members include Doris Rogers, Patricia Nelson and Anne Van Wagner.

Varsity Debating

THIS year's Varsity Debaters started a successful season in Newburgh on October 20 on the topic "Resolved, that the control of the atomic bomb be in the hands of the United Nations." Emeel Betros, Allen Rappleyea, Ralda Meyerson, and Margaret M. Walsh won from Jeffersonville, Liberty, Saugerties, Arlington and Peekskill and lost to Jeffersonville. The negative Barry Grandeau, Natalie Fleck and Sheila Walsh won from Peekskill, Arlington, Ossining and Jeffersonville, and lost to Peekskill and Saugerties.

On December 8, 1945, at a meet at Poughkeepsie High School, the teams debated "A Guaranteed Annual Wage." Among the students debating were Ann Taylor, Hinda Pressman, Margaret M. Walsh, Emeel Betros, Augustine Heller, Evelyn Belknap, Elaine Tinkleman, Hillard Boss, Alan McCagg, Joseph Sorrentino and Sheila Walsh.

The honor teams debated "Compulsory Military Training" with Passaic on February 12, and St. Barnabas and Chaminade on February 22. In the official debates the affirmative team of Ann Taylor, Gerald Seiden, Elaine Tinkelman and Natalie Fleck lost to Peekskill and Liberty and won from Newburgh. The negative team Margaret M. Walsh, Sheila Walsh, Barry Grandeau, and Jack Larkin lost to Arlington 2-1; lost to Jeffersonville 2-1, and to Ossining at Cold Spring. Jeffersonville placed 1st in the I. D. L. of E. N. Y. and Peekskill 2nd.

Freshman Debating

NINETEEN freshmen debated "Control of the Atomic Bomb" in the December tournament at P. H. S. at which time Peekskill and Jeffersonville won first and second place. Since our beginners had to compete with beginning sophomores, juniors and seniors from other schools, the victories were less numerous than usual.

The second term the freshmen on teams with upper classmen debated "Compulsory Military Training" with greater success. Among those participating were Louis Schwartz, Connie Williams, Jack Larkin, Estelle Pearson, Ann Huddelson, Bevelyn Fersh, Patricia Owen, Marjorie Baker, Sheila Whalen, Mary Lou Kenney, Marenes Tripp, Elizabeth Kalloch, Joan Quinn, Paul Schwartz, Kenneth Knudson, Marian Beni, Ann Bolin, Edward Rawson, Rosalyn Ratner, Catherine Gasparro, Ruth Jane Pemberton.

Locutores

LOCUTORES, the Freshman-Sophomore speech club, has completed its eighth season. The club was organized in September, 1937, to interest beginning students in improving their speaking ability. Although the membership has been small, the club enjoyed interesting programs of declamations, quizzes and impromptu talks. In the late spring, also, the club held its annual banquet at Smith Brothers. Because of the cooperation of the members and the officers, and of the assistance of their faculty adviser, Miss Stephens, they can proudly say that the year has been a successful one for the Locutores Club.

This year's officers were Janet Stacey, President; Frank Lombardi, Vice-President; Patricia White, Secretary; Ruth Jane Pemberton, Treasurer.

The active members are Joan Barlow, Phyllis Barton, Patricia Bernhard, Catherine Gasparro, Helen Hendrick, Donald Johnson, Frank Lombardi, Joseph Lombardi, Ruth Jane Pemberton, Vincent Sorrentino, Janet Stacey, Patricia White.

THE high spots of the forensic activities in P. H. S. during 1945-1946 were first, the senior debate team continuing their unbroken record of winning every class debate since they entered high school. This year John Payne, Seymour Sack, Howard Effron, and Margaret M. Walsh won the Junior-Senior cup. The sophomore team—Donald Myer, McCoy Kichar, Emeel Betros, and Hinda Pressman won the Sophomore-Junior debate cup.

Next came the humorous debate, netting $210, with Jean Van Wagenen, Nancy Wiggers, Ruth Pemberton and Harriet Goldstein on the negative, losing in a 3 - 0 decision to John Feldsine, John Payne, McCoy Kichar and Gus Poulimas discussing "Boys should wear make-up."

N. F. L.—Big Three

In October the tournament was again held at North Junior High, Newburgh. The debate proposition was "A Guaranteed Annual Wage." Since Passaic could not travel in November, the November and December teams discussed "Control of the Atomic Bomb" in the meet at Poughkeepsie High School on December 8.

In the State tournament held at Jeffersonville on April 12 John Payne won a state championship in original oratory. This entitled him to compete in the national sectionals at Syracuse on May 6. Ralda Meyerson won a second place in dramatic declamation, Florence Vantella and Regina Murray were rated third and fourth in humorous declamation, and Harriet Goldstein ranked fourth in oratorical declamation finals. Barry Grandeau and Jack Larkin competed in extemporaneous speaking, as well as Donald Johnson, Fannydean Simon, Jack Sacher in the various speaking events.

In debate, Jamestown won the championship, and Liberty ranked second.

Cheerleading

POUGHKEEPSIE High School's cheerleaders have been very much in evidence this past year, with ten new members having been added to the squad, making a total of seventeen morale-builders! Kay Doyle, our strawberry blonde of the class of '46, has ably captained the group these last two semesters assisted staunchly by petite "Midget" Mowell. Others of the varsity squad in blue sweaters and blue and white checked skirts were veterans Shirley Dickerson, Beverly Sardyn, Alice Oepen, Helen Sotanski and Mary Lou Taylor, supplying vim, vigor and beauty, the last being very helpful. Great enthusiasm and abundant vitality were portrayed by Charlanne James, Jean Bauer, Melanee Zimmer, Mary Mowell, Jean Becker, Agnes Miller, Joan Black, Pete Tangal, Richard Capano and Joyce Dattoli, all comparative newcomers to the squad.

The group, in addition to originating and adapting three new cheers this year, "P. H. S. is on the Beam," "The Signal Cheer," and the "Sam Kalloch Cheer," planned and held a February sport dance in the gym in honor of the basketball players. The squad is grateful to Miss Davies, their faculty adviser, who offered much help and assistance to them during the year.

The students of P. H. S. extend their appreciation to the cheerleaders for their efforts to make the athletic contests of '45 - '46 highly successful ones.

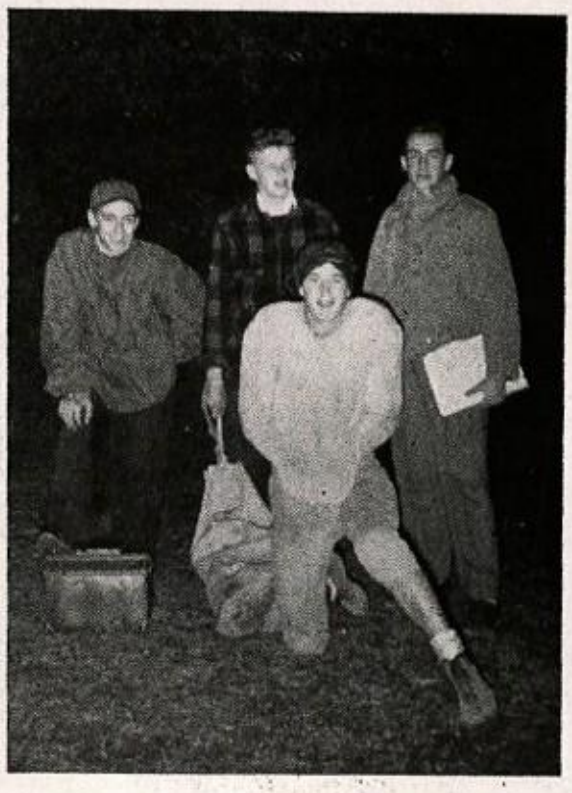
Football

POUGHKEEPSIE'S 1945 football team wasn't exactly in the world-beating class. Only four regulars and a few experienced reserves from last year's all-winning team were back in uniform this year. Taking these facts into consideration, the season might be considered a moderately successful one.

The opening game was played against Port Jervis. Here the questionable Poughkeepsie team proved themselves good ball handlers by scoring 26 points to the opponent's 6.

The following week P. H. S. defeated Saunders Trade, to run their winning streak up to 11 straight games. "Sookie" Thompson deserves special credit for the job he did

In the third game, played against Pleasantville, Ace Lawrence led the running and scoring attack with two long runs and two touchdowns. In the closing minutes Ralph Porazzo, who had played well all afternoon, intercepted a Pleasantville pass and was off on a long run climaxed by a touchdown. Poughkeepsie's scoring spree resulted in a 26-7 victory for the Blue and White.



The following week a confident Poughkeepsie team travelled to Schenectady where they were defeated by Nott Terrace.

Chaminade came to Poughkeepsie seeking to avenge last year's humiliating defeat. They used a tricky T formation that baffled the Blue and White, and P. H. S. suffered a 14-6 defeat.

A twice defeated P. H. S. squad entered their final fray with Johnson City hoping for a fourth win. Although the team threw everything they had into the game, they were unable to stop the Johnson City backfield, who seemed to score at will.

Track '46

MANY of this year's track squad are inexperienced, but they make up for this handicap by their enthusiasm.

Most of last year's winning combinations were lost to the school by graduation last year. "Beans" Bolin, Louis Sorrentino, Joe Gumbinger, "Skip" McCarthy, Harold Larkin and Jimmy Barden have all graduated, leaving many vacancies on the track squad.

Rick Togna, "Ace" Lawrence, Joe Sorrentino and Dan Meyerson are back for another season. These veterans will be supported by many of last year's semi-experienced members, such as John Feldsine and the Bub brothers.

This year's squad has four and possibly five meets scheduled among which are meets with Roosevelt, Kingston, Hudson and Albany. The boys are working hard for Coach Healy. Their willingness to work, coupled with their spirit should go far in aiding them to overcome their handicap of inexperience. Prospects for the squad look hopeful, if the members cooperate as well for the entire season as they have in the first few weeks of practice.

We wish the squad success, and we know they will maintain the school's fine record in the field of sports.

Baseball

A GLANCE at Poughkeepsie High School's 1946 varsity baseball team, shows that this nine ranks with some of the better teams that the school has produced.

While it is true that few of last year's players were available, nevertheless, it is remarkable how well a compartively new team has rapidly taken shape. Joe Havens and Bob Becker have proven their merit in as fine a battery as has been seen since Don Hempe and Tom Whalen made up the ideal battery.

The glory of winning games, however, does not rest solidly upon a good battery. It is the coordination and cooperation of all the players, their loyalty to their school, their coach and to each other. Because of such a combination of qualities P. H. S. has defeated its first three opponents in three games, the scores being:

P. H. S.	16	Millbrook	1
P. H. S.	11	Highland Falls	0
P. H. S.	31	Roosevelt	9

Besides the graceful battery of Joe Havens and Bob Becker, the squad's array of power and punch is backed up by Glen McClellan at first base, Dick Rathburn at secondbase, Walt Gloede at third base and Eddie Williams at shortstop. In the outfield we find Ralph Porazzo, Bill Paroli, and "Sookie" Thompson, playing left, center, and right field respectively. Praise is due, also, to the team's genial manager and "morale builder," John Darrow.

It is well to mention that P. H. S. can boast of one of the finest High School baseball records in the country. In the past 25 years, we have wone 234 games, and lost only 62. Included on the schedule was the West Point Plebes, whom we defeated twice, in 1932 and 1933.

Freshman Girls' Athletic Association

IN LOOKING over our records for 1945-46 we find the freshmen haven't really made themselves famous, but we haven't fared badly either. Take, for instance, the soccer tournament. Of course, the upper classmen won most of the games, but when Miss Van de Water and Mrs. Balme picked girls for two outstanding teams to play Vassar Freshmen and Arlington High School the freshmen were well represented. Ruth Florence, as goalie, was certainly right there to stop the balls. We don't brag about our basketball history, but Evelyn Lute, Pat Owens and Pat Bernhardt captained three enthusiastic but losing teams.

As for our bowling record we modestly mention that we were the winners. Yes, we defeated the Juniors and Seniors besides having the single highest scorer, Marion Beni, a novice in the sport, who twice rolled up a score of 160. We can't make any predictions about the volley ball tournament to be completed soon but Pat Bernhardt, Myra Bernsweig and Martha Sims, the captains, aren't letting their teams lag behind any.

Oh yes, there is softball, too. It's too early to write about that, but from what we hear about Joan Conley's batting ability we think the Board of Education better get us a larger field or cover the A. & P. windows. On May 11, we have planned an all day hike to Lake Mohonk and invited the upperclassmen to help us crawl through "fat man's misery" while we'll pull them through the "lemon squeeze."

Freshman Girls' Athletic Association—
And she's athletic, "too!"

First Row: A. Bocchino, A. Ferrari, E. Owens, M. Collins, K. Clark, C. Relyea, J. Denman, J. Bocchino, D. Leo, G. Simon.
Second Row: R. Fiumarello, C. Lemoine, N. Kyte, J. Simon, A. Kisch, J. Hayden, A. Oepen, M. Verrotti, D. Middleton, E. Lane.
Third Row: E. Rabinowitz, B. Brown, H. Miller, M. Connell, V. Brower, F. Clark, G. Ceruti, A. Trocher, B. Janendo.
Fourth Row: S. White, M. Landi, D. Losee, E. Salm, M. Randall, A. Nadel, M. Sims, I. Kardas.

Girls' Athletic Association

THE Girls' Athletic Association has had a well varied program of sports this year. Their aim throughout the year has been to interest large numbers of girls in health and sportsmanship through physically participating in sports. During the fall season, thirty-five girls played on the soccer teams. They met the Vassar College Freshmen girls and the Arlington High School girls in invitation games.

During the winter season approximately seventy-five girls participated in basketball and bowling. Catherine Relyea's team, consisting of girls from the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes, won the interclass basketball tournament. The Freshmen bowling team caused quite an upset by eliminating the Juniors and Sophomores and defeating the Senior team in the finals.

Badminton, ping pong, and volley ball interested a large group in the interim period between winter and spring. Baseball, bicycling, and hiking wound up the spring season by bringing out girls who heretofore had not taken any part in sports after school hours.

The Monday luncheon meetings proved to be so very successful that it is planned to continue them during 1946-47. Officers of the club are Josephine Bocchino—President; Dolores Leo—Vice-President; Catherine Relyea—Secretary; June Dennen—Treasurer.

DAIRYING...

WHAT A FAR REACHING EFFECT IT HAS UPON HEALTH

BOTH young and old require nourishing dairy products in the daily diet.

The use of dairy products in the United States steadily increases, and the dairy industry continues to grow and prosper.

The huge job of providing milk is of major importance and means a big job for our dairymen.

Successful and profitable dairying depends a great deal on good equipment. It is a vital factor in milk production, and many hours of labor can be saved by equipment working properly.

Our job is to help dairymen and farmers produce at top efficiency—saving valuable time and labor, with the best in Dairy Equipment.

Some things that make the job of dairying and farming — easier and more profitable.

Now . . . a new kind of HOMEWORK!

Now for some of you textbooks no longer exist. No more will you follow Caesar through the weary wilds of Gaul, or track the treacherous algebraic X to its lair. No more homework . . . oh, happy day!

There will be, though, a challenging, thrilling kind of homework, the prerequisites for which, are merely willing fingers and a joy in creating fine things of fine fabrics. Things for you to wear with pride; things for your home. You'll like the kind of homework we sponsor.

Congratulations to all of you, and best wishes for a starred and spangled future, a brighter and fairer series of tomorrows.
